Student Satisfaction Survey (SSS)
on Overall Institutional Performance

2.7.1 – Student Satisfaction Survey (SSS) on overall institutional performance

The Student Satisfaction Survey has been made the integral part of evaluation of the teaching – learning process of the college. The head of the institution regularly conduct council meeting with the Heads of Departments and takes feedback on the teaching-learning progress of each department. The institute monitors and evaluates the quality of teaching learning through IQAC, which collects feedback from all stakeholders. Based on such feedback, teachers understand their strength and weaknesses which lead to overall improvement of the teaching-learning process.

The college IQAC collects feedback from its graduates and employers and the inputs are incorporated to develop its curricula, improve the facilities and the overall status of the college. The college organizes alumni meet periodically and collects the feedback and uses it for the improvement of the college. The institution collects program exit feedback from its passing out students while they receive their Transfer Certificate (TC). The LNGC OSA Association contributes significantly through its activities for the institutional, academic and infrastructure development.

The Placement cell collects feedback from the passing out students who have attended campus interviews, and the feedback is passed on to the department so that it can be used in the near future. Feedback from Alumni is also collected by the IQAC, to update the teaching and learning processes, particularly to introduce any course for the students to improve their knowledge and employability.

The college collects students' feedback regarding the curriculum, which is considered for any revision, if required. The teaching-learning process is reviewed through feedback from students collected and analysed by IQAC. Copies of semester plan prepared by individual teachers are forwarded to the IQAC through the Department Heads and the committee closely monitors the progress of the plan. IQAC in coordination with the Heads of the departments also keeps track of the timely and committed coverage of the lessons. Besides this, the Head of the Institution collects informal feedback from students.
