About the College

Loganatha Narayanasamy Government College was established in 1965 with the noble vision of extending quality higher education to students from rural and economically disadvantaged backgrounds. Located in Ponneri, the institution primarily caters to the educational needs of underprivileged and first-generation learners from Ponneri and its surrounding villages, thereby playing a transformative role in the socio-economic development of the region. Affiliated with the University of Madras and accredited with NAAC 'B+' grade in 2021, the college has consistently upheld standards of academic excellence and institutional integrity. As an Autonomous Institution, it is empowered to design and update its curriculum to meet contemporary academic and industry requirements, ensuring relevance and quality in higher education.

The college is deeply committed to spreading knowledge through inclusive education while simultaneously emphasizing skill development, employability, and value-based learning. Through academic programmes, extension activities, seminars, and training initiatives, the institution fosters critical thinking, research orientation, and professional competence. With dedicated faculty, supportive infrastructure, and a learner-centered approach, the college continues to empower students to become responsible citizens and confident professionals in an evolving global landscape.

About the Department of English

The Department of English, established in 1979 at Loganatha Narayanasamy Government College has been instrumental in promoting excellence in the teaching of English language and literature for several decades. Since its inception, the Department has remained committed to fostering intellectual growth, critical inquiry, and linguistic competence among students, particularly first-generation learners from rural and semi-urban backgrounds.

The Department offers a well-structured curriculum that blends classical and modern literary texts with language studies, enabling students to develop analytical skills, aesthetic appreciation, and effective communication abilities. A team of passionate and dedicated faculty members ensures a supportive and engaging academic environment that encourages active learning and meaningful discussion. Special emphasis is placed on skill development, including spoken and written communication, academic writing, and professional preparedness. The Department also nurtures a strong research attitude by motivating students to participate in seminars, conferences, and scholarly activities. With a focus on empathy, cultural sensitivity, and ethical values, the Department of English strives to shape confident, competent, and socially responsible graduates equipped for higher studies and diverse

Conference Concept Note

The International Conference on Emerging Paradigms in English Studies aims to examine the dynamic transformations shaping the discipline in the twenty-first century. English Studies today extends beyond traditional literary criticism to engage with digital humanities, interdisciplinary research, cultural studies, translation studies, and innovative pedagogical practices. Rapid technological advancement, globalization, and evolving socio-cultural realities have significantly influenced the ways literature is produced, interpreted, and taught.

This conference seeks to create a vibrant academic platform for scholars, researchers, and educators to deliberate on contemporary theoretical frameworks, emerging research methodologies, and technology-enabled learning approaches. It encourages critical engagement with themes such as digital narratives, transnational identities, environmental concerns, media cultures, and inclusive pedagogy. By fostering intellectual exchange and collaborative dialogue, the conference aspires to strengthen research culture, enhance academic visibility, and promote interdisciplinary scholarship. It ultimately aims to reimagine the scope and future directions of English Studies in a rapidly transforming global academic landscape.
